LIBERATA

Liberata, an existing client, approached Office Profile to refurbish their new office at Knollys House, Croydon.

Liberata is the leading provider of Revenues and Benefits for Local Government. They were relocating from their offices in London and Croydon to Knollys House, Croydon. The new office is located less than two minutes from East Croydon train station and walking distance from many local amenities. Knollys House is the perfect location for a growing company.

They reached out to a few fit-out companies as well as Office Profile and we successfully won the tender. We refurbished their London office a few years ago and they knew we could create another exceptional environment for them. There were some time constraints as the leases on their two existing offices were due to expire, therefore timing was critical. The client required various areas; an open plan office, meeting rooms, offices, a teapoint with breakout area and a reception.

Meeting room with glass partitioning and manifestation opposite a StorageWall

StorageWall in the open plan office area

In the reception area, we created a sea green entrance wall with company branding to welcome visitors. For the teapoint and breakout area, we installed beige gloss cupboards and drawers, with durable wood effect vinyl tiles.

We installed full height glass partitioning with manifestation for the offices and meeting rooms. We fitted two StorageWall systems in various locations. It was a pleasure working with Liberata again – enjoy the new office!
