

MetDesk Ltd

MetDesk had outgrown their previous premises and required a CAT B fit-out for their new, larger office.

Originally an old pub, The Wellhead, with its unusual layout suited them perfectly, but required extensive refurbishment. The client expressed that they wanted to incorporate their corporate colours, logo and company ethos within the office design whilst retaining some of the building's architectural features. We wanted to make sure that MetDesk's brand was encapsulated throughout the office so we mounted their company logo on a bold blue wall to create an eye-catching reception and their company colours and ethos can be seen throughout the office in the furnishings and glass partitioning. A unique feature of MetDesk's new office is the large weather forecast map wall graphic in the boardroom which complements the stylish meeting table and chairs. In the breakout space, the teapoint includes vibrant decorative tiles, Banquette seating and colourful stools. Up in the forecasting area, we fitted Myriad screens to provide privacy and reduce noise levels in the busy office.
